System Requirements:

We are happy to announce that we are currently working on a server side patch, which is currently being tested in the closed Beta, should all go to plan, we will be able to announce the details on Monday 9th June. Please be aware that this patch is still in its early stages and we are doing our best to get it as stable as possible, when you join the test you can expect to see lots of server crashes. Also this patch is not for the faint hearted, we fully expect it to wipe your account so be prepared to re-create it if necessary.
