Leila De Lima, former PNP chair, was slapped with anew drug trafficking charge on Friday for allegedly helping in the alleged illegal drug trade in Davao when she was justice secretary in 2012. [dpw.gov.ph] Chauhan eventually admitted that he was able to establish ISKCON in Brunei, but not the exact location. He said he was not familiar with the kind of relationship the DPC had with ISKCON. Chauhan is a former president of the Johor-based International Society for Krishna Consciousness (ISKCON). He said ISKCON has been active in Malaysia since 1990. Based on a report of a forum of the Department of Biodiversity and Natural Resources, Chauhan was called to answer questions by the public on his credibility and integrity. FLEEING TO BRUNEI Chauhan offered his testimony at the commission sitting in Petaling Jaya, Selangor from Monday to Wednesday. The IGI panel was set up by the Government to investigate the alleged diversion of funds from the DPC after Auditor General Tan Sri Saravanan raised the alarm in a report released last year. The commission has a panel made up of the chief commissioner, deputy chief commissioner, and assistant commissioners. However, the government did not provide the panel with the full details of Chauhan's visit to Brunei when the matter came up. In a letter dated June 26, 2012, the ministry said the DPC had no objections to the liaison officer's visit to Brunei as the alleged crime took place during the period he was the deputy director. The letter further stated that the deputy director was not investigated for allegations of misappropriation of public funds because of the time lapse. "In this case, the Foreign Ministry did not see a need to include the officer's name in the report (of the investigation) because how to find them, cause I think they need to be hidden, cause they look like $ signs and I would hate to only be able to save it as a.txt. Thanks A: You can put the text in a text editor like NotePad++ and change the font to the encoding of choice, without the accents. Here's an example (where çă,,ă" is the unicode encoding for the letter ç in the same font): A: I have no idea what you mean by encoding. If you want to encode the text to make it display properly in your Windows program and you want to get rid of the small $ signs, you can go to Character Map and right-click the character you want to encode, and click "Encode with". Aging and the autonomic nervous system. The increase in autonomic nervous system (ANS) activity in the elderly is attributed to one or several of the following factors: 1) activation of reflexes that maintain constant blood pressure, 2) enhancement of peripheral vascular responsiveness to the sympathetic nervous system, 3) enhanced central sympathetic function, and 4) increased levels of circulating catecholamines. The resulting rise in blood pressure is felt to contribute to an increased incidence of orthostatic hypotension, hypertension, and cerebrovascular disease. Activation of the peripheral sympathetic vasoconstrictor reflexes may contribute to the development of the aging-associated hypertensive state. This hypothesis may be consistent with current evidence that alpha-adrenergic mechanisms play a role in the development of essential hypertension. Central sympathetic function is thought to be enhanced in the elderly in relation to the increased requirement of arousal from sleep. Enhanced catecholamine levels in the circulation may be due to increased release from dense adrenergic nerve endings or, more likely, to decreased clearance by the blood of cardiac output. A major problem is that many of these factors involved in the activation of the ANS contribute to the aging process, complicating the task of defining the effects of aging on the ANS. Â .1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a method of manufacturing a semiconductor device, and more particularly to a method of manufacturing a semiconductor device in which a semiconductor substrate is warped by thermal stress induced by an impurity implantation process after forming a stacked-gate structure. 2. Description of the Prior Art Recently, there has been proposed a semiconductor device in which two MOS transistors having different structures are stacked on a semiconductor substrate. Such a semiconductor device is disclosed in the Japanese Patent Laid-open Publication No. Heisei 4-109347. In this prior art, the surface of the uppermost layer of the semiconductor substrate has a depression, and a gate electrode of the first MOS transistor is formed in the depression. Further, the surface of the lower layer of the semiconductor substrate has a projection and a gate electrode of the second MOS transistor is formed on the projection. An impurity is then implanted into the semiconductor substrate by an ion implantation process to form a P-channel or N-channel transistor in the semic
